

U.S. DIVERSIFIED REAL ESTATE ETF

The U.S. Diversified Real Estate ETF (PPTY) is designed for investors who know that location, property type and leverage matter. PPTY seeks to track the performance of the U.S. Diversified Real Estate Index (USREX), a rules based index that is designed to ensure diversification by property type and location, while favoring companies with prudent leverage. Our portfolio is constructed based on the actual properties held by each company in our investment universe. The Index's focus on the underlying real estate allows for consistent exposure and reliable diversification.

HOW TO INVEST IN REAL ESTATE

We believe investors should consider four primary factors when investing in real estate:

Location: Location is a key driver of real estate performance. We use stable targets to obtain diversified geographic exposure that favors dynamic, high-growth locations.

Property Type: Apartment or office? Industrial or retail? Differences between property types matter. We use fixed allocations to ensure diversification and balance.

Leverage: Responsible use of leverage can enhance returns, but too much debt is dangerous. We favor companies with prudent leverage.

Governance: Firms with significant governance risks such as external management are excluded from our portfolio.

Investments involve risk. Principal loss is possible. The Fund has the same risks as the underlying securities traded on the exchange throughout the day at market price. The Fund's investments will be concentrated in an industry or group of industries to the extent the Index is so concentrated, and the Index is expected to be concentrated in real estate-related industries. The Fund is expected to invest substantially all of its assets in real estate-related companies. Investments in real estate companies involve unique risks. Real estate companies, including REITs, may have limited financial resources, may trade less frequently and in limited volume, and may be more volatile than other securities. The risks of investing in real estate companies include certain risks associated with the direct ownership of real estate and the real estate industry in general. The equity securities of smaller companies have historically been subject to greater investment risk than securities of larger companies. Investor shares are bought and sold at market price (not NAV), may trade at a discount or premium to NAV and are not individually redeemed from the Fund. Ordinary brokerage commissions may apply.

The fund's investment advisor is Vident Advisory, LLC. PPTY's sub-advisor is Vident Investment Advisory (VIA). Vident Financial owns the index that underlies the fund. 1: There is no guarantee that dividends will be paid or will increase. 2: The net asset value (NAV) return uses the change in net asset value over time, and market return uses the change in market value. Shares may trade in the market at levels that deviate from its NAV.
